

Full-throttle support race action

Aside from the two headlining BSB races there's also a packed programme of racing from the series support classes. The range of race action available at Brands Hatch British Superbikes will blow your mind.

National Superstock 1000

Cut and thrust action from the race class that uses standard-spec 1000cc machines from BMW, Kawasaki, Ducati, Suzuki, Honda and Aprilia. Men to watch: Taylor Mackenzie, Ian Hutchinson, Michael Rutter.

National Superstock 600

The series that sees young riders make the next step towards their Superbike or Supersport dream. Men to watch: Carl Phillips, Bradley Jones and Jordan Weaving.

British Supersport

Top-flight 600cc racing at its best, the Dickies British Supersport Championship features 600s ridden by riders who aren't afraid of fairing bashing. Men to watch: Luke Hedger, Tarran Mackenzie, Joe Francis.

British Motostar

A grid full of GP-spec Moto3 machines line up for battle at Brands. The entry list sees riders from the UK, Holland, Spain and Germany to give Motostar a real international field and an amazingly deep pool of talent.

BRITISH SUPERBIKES BRANDS HATCH GP AUGUST 5-7

It's the big Brands bash!

There's more to British Superbikes at Brands Hatch than just great racing...

The MCE Insurance British Superbike Championship is the UK's most popular racing series, featuring world-class riders such as Shane Byrne, John Hopkins, Leon Haslam and James Ellison, and Kent's Brands Hatch is considered by many to be its spiritual home.

The summer round on August 5-7 is known as the 'Big Brands Bash' as it combines a full programme of racing on the classic Grand Prix layout with a busy line-up of off-track events, including a major Saturday evening concert. And thousands camp on-site all weekend.

You can experience all the action live from trackside with discounted tickets available in advance. Find everything you need to know about the event with this handy guide!

KARTING

Got a taste for racing? Test your mettle and battle with your mates on a mini version of the Brands Hatch Indy circuit in a go-kart. Karting is available for all those aged 8+ and costs £15 for 10 minutes, payable at the karting circuit. Located opposite the Megastore and next to the Kentagon.

There's nothing like the atmosphere of Brands Hatch

Unrivalled spectating

The Brands Hatch GP circuit is almost two venues in one. The natural amphitheatre of the Indy loop is one of the best places in the country to watch a bike race. But a trip to Brands GP demands a trip into the woods to see the riders tackle the fearsome Hailwoods, Westfield, Sheene and Stirlings corners.

The Indy circuit section is spectator heaven

Camping

Why not make a weekend of it? Pitch up to get the most out of your Brands Bash weekend. Choose from the family campsite or the lively campsite for more buzz. Weekend camping costs £18 per person (£27 on the gate).

Meet the stars

Every MCE BSB fan knows that the championship has its fair share of characters, and you can meet them all on Sunday's free-of-charge pitwalk, and the paddock's open all weekend. Remember to purchase an official event programme on your way in, as it contains autograph panels for all of the riders - see how many you can get!

Child's play

There's even something to keep the smallest of race fans happy, as Brands boasts a motorsport-themed adventure playground, with equipment for children of all ages from toddler to 14.

SHOPPING

If you're looking for something to do between the races, check out the trade stands, located opposite the main straight. Here you'll find anything from manufacturer displays to riding gear to racing souvenirs and much more, and if you're short of change, there's a cash point located at the Paddock Hill grandstand.

Can you make this out to my mum?

Free entry to Monster Energy Fans' Thursday

Thursday's activities see a range of events - from track walks to rider interviews - at the Kent circuit, with the whole afternoon admission free for everyone. Gates open from midday - the same time the campsites open for the weekend - and some of the day's events include a pit lane walk from 3pm, a full programme of rider interviews on the Monster Energy stage at Clark Curve, and a track walk from 5pm to 6pm. Don't miss it!

Amazing live entertainment

A fundraising concert for Care After Combat, a UK charity supporting forces veterans and their families, will be held on the Saturday evening. Hosted by charity chairman, Jim Davidson OBE, confirmed bands are The Sounds of Rod (and Rod Stewart's sister, Mary, is attending as special guest of Jim Davidson), John Coggan's Quo, Who are You, Just Floyd, and Tony Lorenzo. The fun starts at 8.30pm on the Brands Hatch airfield. Admission is free to all valid admission ticket holders.
